New York, March 22.—The stock market was much more active to-day than for weeks, but white feverish became decidedly strong, and a portion attended to the market was portion attended to the Minsouri Pacific dividend. It is now supposed to be a question of whether it shall be by or nothing. The unsettled condition of Gould stocks causes great uncertainty in other investments, and the general market to-day showed a marked disposition to cut loose from them, or at least from Missouri Pacific. Western Union was one of the strongest stocks on the list, especially late in the day. The usual drive was made at the opening, but the list met with excellent support, and outside of Missouri Pacific, Western Union, and New England, very little impression was made. When a recovery began there was marked demand for covering shorts, which helped the advance materially, and later favorable news from Chicago that the Northwestern difficulties were in a fair way to be settled, and more confident buying for long account was noticed. Missouri Pacific opened at an advance of 2 per cent, over last evening's closing price, but was driven down quickly 34 per cent, after which it recovered a portion of the loss, but remained feverish and unsettled for the remained feverish and unsettled for the remained feverish and unsettled for the remained of the day, finally closing with a het gain of 35 per cent. The opening was irregular, but the declines were in the majority, and the market was decidedly weak in the early trading. Marked declines were made in Western Union and New England, but the gearral list lost only fractional amounts. The decline was soon checked, and although the extreme activity lasted for over haif an hour prices quickly recovered, and while the market romained feverish most of the day a steady improvement took place, which coased only with the close of buriness. The advance was specially marked in the last hour, and the close was comparatively quiet, but firm to strong at the best prices for the day for most of tallst. [Vienua New Free Press.] A somewhat curious duel took place a few days ago at Kicheneff, the capital of the important Russian province of Bas-sarabia. A gentleman of the name of Paul Usakoff and Prince Temariaff quarrelled together about some trivial matter at the "Nobles Club," and finally determined to settle their differences by a duel. On the following morning they met with their seconds and a surgeon on the outskirts of the town and exc fillers that manufacturers are picking up to supply a few daily wants, and auction offerings were fifty-two packages of various grades of West Virginia brights, from 4c. to 27% c. Of these, twenty were taken in, fourteen of them in succession at the end of the sale. Some few with increased vigor. Growing more and dark and sun-cured sales were also effected, but more excited the dispute at length defisticuff struggle.

The Prince, who all along had been the aggressor, was in the act of receiving a sound and well-deserved thrashing when suddenly the thin varnish of civilization gave way, and all his innate and national we hear of the confirmation of an important sale of 140 hogsheads of old cutters at Danville, catching the latter's lower lip between sale of 140 hogsheads of old cutters at Danville, Va., to a New York house at good prices. The western papers team with reports of a big to-bacco crop preparation. The feace-corners will not be neglected. The mountain people are coming to the more fertile valleys to rent land to make a crop on. Pianters of Virginia, beware. A small, fine croponly will pay you, if any. We make a distinct class, the true, but the Burleys will reduce prices of all manufacturing.
